The months of Olympics and Safe Trips to China

Due to the upcoming potential security issues of the Olympics in China, the visa application policies, security checks and airline luggage policies have been changed. The Beijing Police Department has launched the slogan "Safe Olympic China" for several months. (May to October 2008)

Chinese Visa Application

From May to October 2008, the Chinese visa application process will be different: Maybe, no more multi-entries visa will be granted. To avoid the application denial, all applicators may need to prepare the following documents: Airline tickets, itinerary, hotel reservations and possibly a letter of invitation (or provide the information of your friends or relatives in China). Also, apply your Chinese visa within three months only from your departure date.

Traveling in China during "Safe Olympic"

Due to the "Safe Olympic China" months (May to October 2008), some of the foreigners may encounter a security check by the local police force, especially in Beijing. If anyone plans to visit China during that time, please carry your passport, hotel address and itinerary all the time after you have arrived in China.

There is a new policy for carry on luggage for the domestic airlines in China.

Beginning on May 1st 2008, all Chinese domestic airlines will limit passengers of business classes and economy classes to one carry on luggage no heavier than 11 pounds. The sizes of the carry on luggage will be limited to 20 x 40 x 55 centimeters (about 8" x 15" x 21").

Any oversize or overweight luggage will be checked in and will cost an extra fee. The check-in luggage is remained in same: one luggage at 50 pounds or less per passenger.

Stamps for Sewing on Clay

Have you ever see anyone who was sewing on clay works? You may say: Yes, Marilyn Levin did on her leather jackets, shoes and cases. It is also a unique technique adopted by some Yixing artists.

The artists use a handmade stamp to press onto the surface of clay and create stitches effect. Now, Chinese Clay Art is carrying these type of "Stitches Stamps". The stamp sets contain stamps of three sizes. (Item number SE 02). For details, please visit www.ChineseClayArt.com. It is a fun tool to play with!

The Textural Mats Which Transfer Patterns onto Clay

The Textural Mats which transfer their relief patterns onto the surfaces of the clay are the number one sold products within all of our clay art supplies. I have invented the textural mats in 2001 and I have been granted the patent in China. The first of the textural mats were made out of plastic at 8 inches x 12 inches (series of PA 01 in 6 designs). Later on, we reduced them to half their original size (series of PA 01C,) and they sold very well too.

In 2003, due to several requests, we made the textural mats of a larger size -12 inches x 16 inches (series of PA 02 in 4 designs)- out of black rubber.

In 2005 to 2007, I have had 4 new designs in size 10 inches x 15 inches (series of PA 212-PA 219) out of plastic. So, up to now, we have 10 designs of textural mats in 5 different sizes in our stocks. We plan to have a few more designs launch out in later of this year.
